

Stalasso

The Stalasso pendant lamp was inspired by one of nature's own art forms, the stalactite dripstone. The elegant form captures the essence of the naturally occurring contrast of water as it drips from the tip of the mineral deposit. It's versatile as a single hanging "drop" of light, an ambience-inspiring cluster, or an expansive arrangement across large spaces. This way the two sides of the room can meet in a unique way and fuse into a light element.

Design Agency: Joeri Claeys
Designer: Joeri Claeys
Photographer: Joeri Claeys
Country: Belgium